Soldiers and Sailors Database

The Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System (CWSS) is a database containing information about the men who served in the Union and Confederate armies during the Civil War. Other information on the site includes histories of Union and Confederate regiments, links to descriptions of significant battles, and selected lists of prisoner-of-war records and cemetery records, which will be amended over time. The CWSS is a cooperative effort between the National Park Service and several public and private partners whose goal is to increase Americans' understanding of this decisive era in American history by making information about it widely accessible.

There were more than 10,000 armed conflicts during the Civil War, so many that it can be hard to know which ones were the major encounters. The Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System simplifies the research with brief but informative histories of the nearly 400 battles deemed most significant by the National Park Service's American Battlefield Protection Program. Battles can easily be searched by both state and campaign

Malvern Hill

This was the sixth and last of the Seven Days' Battles. On July 1, 1862, Gen. Robert E. Lee launched a series of disjointed assaults on the nearly impregnable Union position on Malvern Hill. The Confederates suffered more than 5,300 casualties without gaining an inch of ground. Despite his victory, McClellan withdrew to entrench at Harrison's Landing on James River, where his army was protected by gunboats. This ended the Peninsula Campaign. When McClellan's army ceased to threaten Richmond, Lee sent Jackson to operate against Maj. Gen. John Pope's army along the Rapidan River, thus initiating the Northern Virginia Campaign.

Return of the United States Naval Rendezvous at Boston for the week ending Saturday, April 24th, 1864.

[P] As this sheet will become the Reference Record at the Navy Department, great care must be taken that the information called for under the several headings is correctly given and plainly written. If the number of enlistments exceed the capacity of this sheet, do not paste an addition to the bottom of it, but carry forward to a new sheet—dating and certifying each sheet.

SIDELIGHTS ON LINCOLN GIVEN

Memories of Emancipator Recalled by Angeleno

Civil War Veteran Tells of His Acquaintance

Birthday to be Observed by Many Organizations

"With malice toward none and charity for all" as the attribute of Abraham Lincoln which he most vividly recalls, Charles B. Wilson of 2338 Eleventh avenue, yesterday told of his acquaintance with the Great Emancipator during the Civil War days when bitterness and hatred bid fair to tear the nation asunder.

Mr. Wilson, then Lieut. Wilson, was on Gen. Whittell's staff at Richmond, Virginia, in 1863 when the end of the war came. Word was received that Lincoln was coming down from Washington and Wilson was detailed to meet him at the landing a few miles out of town and escort him into Richmond. The President was met, he said, by scores of freed slaves who fell on their knees before him with cries of "God bless Master Lincoln! God bless Master Lincoln!" And the short distance into the city took two hours to cover because at every step of the way he was shaking hands with the negroes with both his hands, his stove-pipe hat remaining on his head and his umbrella tucked under his arm.

When finally they reached the State House at Richmond, the President sat in Jefferson Davis' chair and discussed the disposition of the Confederate leaders with his generals.

"What shall we do with them, Mr. President?" he was asked, and Mr. Wilson tells how Lincoln sat there looking up at the ceiling and his only comment was: "Let 'em up easy, boys, let 'em up easy."

UNUSUALLY HORSEMAN

Earlier in the war when Wilson was one of Berden's sharpshooters, he related the story of their mutiny because they had been promised a certain kind of rifle to use, instead of which they were given old Enfield muskets. McClellan placed them all under arrest and then went to Lincoln with the story. Lincoln promptly mounted a horse and rode to their camp a short distance outside of Washington.

"With the stirrups too short and his long legs protruding at an ungainly angle, his stove-pipe hat and his umbrella under his arm, he made about as bad a figure on the horse as ever I saw," said Mr. Wilson. "But he came out to talk the matter over with the boys and he told McClellan that just as soon as the promised rifles could be procured we were to have them. He always was fair and he always talked straight from the shoulder. That's why everyone loved him."

Mr. Wilson, who will be 85 years of age this month, is a past senior vice-commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic. He has been a resident of Los Angeles since 1895.

tries to be run off by fourteen entries. The Association of City Planners of Los Angeles will hold a session at noon today at the Maryland Hotel in Pasadena after which the members will attend the dedication of the memorial flagpole at Orange Grove avenue and Colorado street, and the dedication of the new public library an hour later.

Schools throughout the city district celebrated Lincoln's birthday yesterday morning with student programs held in their own auditoriums. Los Angeles High School was the one exception as the pupils are planning a program for Washington's birthday and will celebrate that of the Emancipator at the same time.

Swedish residents of Los Angeles and vicinity will celebrate Lincoln's birthday this evening at the T. V. O. Hall, 924 West Washington street. Dr. Alvin Peterson is the chairman in charge of a program which will include musicians and entertainers from the Swedish colony. The program will be given in English.

LINCOLN LETTER OWNED BY LOCAL WOMAN

Coincident with the commemoration today of the 120th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, it was revealed that one of the few hitherto unpublished letters written by the great emancipator, is the property of a resident of Beverly Hills, Mrs. Ernest Chase of 721 Madoc Drive. The letter was written to Adm.-Gen. Thomas toward the close of the Civil War in reference to the James of Philadelphia owned by Mrs. Eugenia F. Bass, Mrs. Chase's aunt, who later became the Countess Berlinckii. At her death, about ten years ago, the letter, along with a collection of valuable antiques, many of which are said to be of outstanding historical value, became the property of Mrs. Chase.

Countess Berlinckii won fame in Washington, D. C., as a southern beauty during antebellum days, and after her marriage to the Italian nobleman, traveled extensively.

Mrs. Chase, before her marriage, lived abroad with her aunt for almost fifteen years.

ANCESTRY MOLDER OF LINCOLN'S CHARACTER

Prof. Walter Szytler Hertog, KSU historian, spoke yesterday before 2000 students of Belmont High School on "The Contribution of the State of Pennsylvania to the Greatness of Lincoln."

"The simplicity of his life, his calmness in the midst of the struggle of the Civil War, his gentleness and kindness toward friend and foe, were due to the spirit of self-compassion which was implanted in his heart by the simple teachings of his Quaker ancestors of Berks county, Pennsylvania," the speaker said.
