Part 3: Analysis, Module-6 – Citations

Select the best answer(s) to each question. When finished, click the link at the end to view the answers.

1. Check all that apply. Citations are useful to family historians because they:

- Help you find a document again.
- Require time to be constructed properly.
- Are part of the Genealogical Proof Standard.
- Help you evaluate the information you found.

2. Choose the best answer. Citations suggested by online companies:

- Include enough information for you to find the fact a second time.
- Follow the Evidence Explained model.
- Usually need additional work to capture the who-what-when-whereis-wherein.
- Make it easy to find the original (pre-internet) source of information.

3. Check all that apply. Citations should include:

- Author
- Title (book or database)
- Publisher
- Information about the item of interest
- Original creator of item
