

Coert Stevense Van Voorhees

Coert Stevense Van Voorhees was born in Hees, Drenthe, Holland in 1637 to Steven Van Voorhees and Aeltje Wessels. He migrated to New Amsterdam in 1660 and held magistrate positions there in 1664 and in 1673. In 1664 he married Marritje Gerritsen Van Couwenhoven, the daughter of New Amsterdam settlers Gerret Wolfersten Van Couwenhoven and Aeltje Cornelis Cool. Voorhees lived in what is now considered the Flatlands neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York. Voorhees remained in the colony after the Dutch ceded it to the British in 1664, who then renamed it New York. He served as the captain of the local militia in 1689 and 1691. Voorhees died after 1702 on Long Island.
