Church Records

- Some denominations will include death, funeral and burial records in the volumes of church records recorded. This may include details to the cause of the parishioner's death.
- Often a diary of a clergyman may record more details about the death of a parishioner.
- Church membership lists indicating former members now deceased. These can date back until the 17th century for some parishes.

- Last rites can be given to anyone that is awaiting execution, mortally injured, or terminally ill.
- They cannot be given to anyone that has already died.
- Recorded in the sick call registers as "last rites" or "Viat" (abbreviation for Viaticum).

Burial Traditions

- The body is positioned with the head to the west, hands resting on thighs, and feet to the east
 - If west-east position is not possible, north-south is used instead
 - Allows the dead to rise at dawn on Judgment Day, see the sunrise, and ascend into heaven
 - Clergy are buried in the opposite orientation
- Headstone inscriptions on the side facing west
- Quakers used plain coffins, sometimes stacking them on top of each other. Nondescript headstones are used.
 - Meeting members would remove any gravestones used (exceptions: Hicksite and Gurneysite sects)

Burial Registers

- Details may include the following:
 - Name of deceased
 - Date died
 - Date buried
 - Burial plot details
 - Age
 - Cause of death

Death Notices and Obituaries

Death Notices and Obituaries

- A death notice is often a preliminary notice to a longer more detailed obituary to be published in the newspaper the same day or the next issue.
- 18th through 20th century obituaries are often very limited if published in a larger urban American newspaper.
- Smaller town newspapers will often publish an obituary with details regarding the life, death and funeral of the resident.
- To locate a death notice or an obituary, often the exact date of death, and knowledge of the last residence is required.

Where to find newspapers

- Libraries: public and academic
- State Archives or Libraries
- State or local historical societies

Memoriam

In Memoriam

Death of Mr. Edward P. Rudd.

The brother of sleep, as the ancients termed death, has suddenly taken from us a young man of great energy of character, of wide and extended influence, and what is still more important in these days of private and public profligacy, a truly good, honest and Christian man. We allude to Edward P. Rudd, the late head of the well-known publishing house of Rudd & Carleton. Having known Mr. R. intimately, I desire to pay a passing tribute to his memory. He was the son of Rev. Mr. Rudd, of Lyons, in this State. At the early age of 15 he entered the book-house of J.C. Derby, at Auburn, where he remained three years. Thinking New-York offered a wider sphere for him, he came here at 18 with strong letters to A. S. Barnes & Co. . . .

DEAD IN HER 88TH YEAR. —
Demise of Mrs. Nancy E. Young of North Westport.

A respected and esteemed resident of North Westport, Mrs. Nancy E. Young, the widow of William Young, who passed away some 12 years ago, died at the residence of Samuel C. Hicks, in that place, Friday, in her 88th year. Mrs. Young was taken sick on the day before Christmas. She had maintained a vigorous state both in mind and body for these many years. She was a native of Somerset, the daughter of Jonathan and Lydia Pierce. She was brought up in the Friends' Society, but joined the First Baptist church of this city at the age of 18, and had since retained her connection with that church, being at her death one of the oldest surviving members. After her marriage to Mr. Young, she came to this city to make her home, residing on Cottage street. Mr. Young was engaged in the ice business here for a long period, and when he and his family moved to Westport, to take up farming, he continued in that business. After Mr. Young died, the widow became a member of the family of Samuel C. Hicks, in which she lived most of the time until her death, being a part of this period with her grandchildren. Her motherly qualities and her strength of character were widely recognized.

Mrs. Young leaves four children, 10 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. The children are Mrs. Ella J. Blossom, the wife of E. W. Blossom, of North Westport; Mrs. Mary E. Borden, the wife of Edwin Borden, of the Narrows; Charles T. Young and William A. Young, of North Westport; the grandchildren, the four daughters of Mrs. and Mrs. Blossom, Mrs. Mary E. Sherman, of Assonet, Misses Alice M. and Clara L. Blossom, bookkeepers for the E. S. Brown Company, in this city, and Miss Susan L. Blossom, clerk for the Peirce Piano Co., 139 South Main street; the three daughters and two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Borden: Mrs. Minnie Lawton and Mrs. Ida Sampson, of North Westport, and Mrs. Minerva Sanford, of Seattle, Washington, and William and Beriah Borden of North Westport; also Charles W. Young, son of Charles T. Young, of North Westport. Her great-grandchildren are four in number.

The funeral is announced for 1 o'clock, Monday afternoon, from the late residence of the deceased.

Lengthy Obituary with remarks

LOCKPORT MAN IS SUFFOCATED

Lockport, Aug. 24.--Lorenzo Neal Siers, twenty-three years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin J. Siers, No. 50 Reed street, was found dead in bed at his home this morning, by his mother. When she failed to awaken him at 8 o'clock Dr. F. A. Crosby was called, and he decided the man had been dead about three hours. Coroner Lyman H. Wheeler investigated the case and learned he had been a victim of epileptic attacks, during one of which, it is believed, he was suffocated by the bed clothes.

Besides his parents the young man leaves five sisters, Mrs. Walter Schuyler, Mrs. Charles Bird, Mrs. W. H. Hunter, Mrs. George Reynolds, this city, and Mrs. Edward Lawson, Ann Arbor, Mich., and one brother, Irving Siers, Buffalo. Funeral services will be held at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the South Street A. M. E. church, and burial will be in Cold Springs cemetery.

U.S. Census Mortality Schedules

Mortality Schedules

- Mortality schedules record the name of the decedent, including age, race, marital status, and cause of death.
- Federal Mortality schedules were taken by census enumerators for the 1850, 1860, 1870, and 1880 Censuses.
- State Census Mortality for 1885 exists for Colorado, Florida, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, and South Dakota.
- The deaths recorded on the schedules occurred a calendar year previous to the date of the census enumeration. Example: The 1850 U.S. Census mortality schedule recorded deaths which occurred from May 31, 1849, until June 1, 1850.
- All mortality schedules 1850-1885 have been indexed and are viewable online at Ancestry.com

Funeral Home / Undertaker Records

History

- The oldest funeral home in the United States is in Bucktrout, Virginia. It was founded in 1759.
- Before the mid-1800's the bodies of loved ones were displayed in the family's front room or parlor.
- Embalming became more popular following President Lincoln's assassination. His body was preserved for his nationwide funeral train.
- Families started seeking out funeral homes outside of their local area and transported bodies home for burial (particularly during the Civil War).
- Various memorial cards have been produced by funeral homes since the 19th century. Many memorials are simply virtual memorials in the 21st century.

Tax Records

Tax Records

- During the 17th to 20th century, a tax record may indicate that the taxpayer had recently died. This will be indicated typically by the word deceased next to their name.
- The disappearance of a name from a tax list can also refer to the death of an individual. It also can indicate the person has moved from that community.
- The replacement of a male taxpayer by his wife may also indicate she is a “Widow” in the records.

Beyond the Grave: Uncovering Life Stories from Death Records

Thank you for registering for the online course, Beyond the Grave: Uncovering Life Stories from Death Records!

As genealogists, we often talk about “filling in the dash” for our ancestors—moving beyond birth and death dates by uncovering stories that paint a more complete picture of our ancestors’ lives. To fill in this “dash” we shouldn’t just look to records from the years that they were alive. Death records include important details and clues about our ancestors’ lives that reveal rich stories and help us better understand their experiences. This four-week online seminar will provide a detailed overview of death records through this lens of uncovering stories. We’ll discuss civil death records and substitutes; last wills and testaments; funeral, burial, and cemetery records; and more.

This course includes four 90-minute classes and exclusive access to handouts and recordings of each presentation. These recordings and all course materials will be available for the foreseeable future.
