Reasons to Research Associates

- Tracing migrations
- Discovering more about military service
- Study of a particular place or event – associated places can be important
- Maternal lines
- Develop a more holistic view of an ancestor

Your Ancestor's Network

- Who – noting individuals that appear in your ancestor's records
- What – One event? Multiple?
- Where – Did their interactions occur in one place? Multiple?
- When – for how long were the individuals associated?
- Why – why were they interacting?

MISCELLANEOUS CITY NEWS

THE CITY DEMOCRACY.

TRYING TO UNITE THE VARIOUS ELEMENTS
OPPOSED TO TAMMANY HALL—THE DIFFICULTIES IN THE WAY.

The Executive Committee of the New-York

County (Old Anti-Tammany) Democracy met last evening at the head-quarters, No. 211 Union-square, Emanuel B. Hart presiding. Mr. Ira Shafer, on behalf of the Conference Committee, reported that a conference, with a view to union, had been held with Messrs. Cooper and Ottendorfer, and they suggested that the committee should meet the gentlemen who have their head-quarters at the Everett House and are presided over by ex-Register John McCool. It was understood that whatever took place at the proposed meeting should not be binding. The committee subsequently met, with Messrs. Hubert O. Thompson, James E. Morrison, ex-Senator John Fox, and others who had formerly acted with the County Democracy. There was a free and full conversation in regard to local political affairs. Mr. Emanuel B. Hart, on the part of the committee, proposed that inasmuch as the County Democracy had an organization, and had existed since 1875, there was no objection to the gentlemen who met at the Everett House joining with it in the war against Tammany Hall. He stated that neither he [Mr. Hart] nor Mr. Shafer desired to retain their positions in the County Democratic organization, the former as the Chairman of its Executive Committee and the latter as Chairman of its General Committee; they were perfectly willing to vacate their offices. Mr. Nelson J. Waterbury, speaking for the Everett House gentlemen, said that the County Democracy was a thing of the past, and argued that there must be an entirely new organization formed, and others of those present appeared to concur with him. As the committee had no power to disband the organization, all that could be done was to make an appointment to meet with the Everett House party next Friday. Mr. Shafer said that it was a matter of judgment as to whether the County Democracy should disband. There was no disguising the fact that it had an organization. There had been some dissatisfaction, but the mass of the Anti-Tammany Democrats was with it. If a disbandment took place its disbanded members would be confronted with the Brunswick Hotel Democracy, of which Mr. John B. Haskin, who had formerly been identified with Tammany Hall, was Chairman, and of which Mr. James O'Brien, who had formerly been a member of their own organization, and who had left for inexplicable reasons, was a leading member. It was true that friends had been found at the Everett House, but there were others who had been dissatisfied with the organization, and the latter asked them to lay down their arms and join hands. He was not prepared to say that a union was as yet expedient.

The New York Times, 7 March 1878

Place and/or Migration

- Did your family migrate somewhere? What other families made the same migration?

tax lists, and in his death record. At all other times he is Webb Adey, and that is the sequence used here. (Savage enters him under the surname "Webb," and in another place misrepresents him as "William Adey.")

WILLIAM AGER

ORIGIN: Unknown
MIGRATION: 1630
FIRST RESIDENCE: Salem

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP: "William Auger" was admitted to Salem church before the reorganization at the end of 1636 [SChR 5].

FREEMAN: 18 May 1631 (as "William Agar") [MBCR 1:366]. (Pope and some other sources give this date incorrectly as 1643.)

EDUCATION: On his will there is no indication of signature or mark, but he did add his signature to the 1646 inventory of Edward Candall [EPR 1:58]; William Ager's inventory included "books 10s."; his service as Salem recorder of births, marriages and deaths shows that he could read and write [STR 1:148].

OFFICES: 30 March 1641: "Goodman Auger is ordered to call a general town meeting the second day of the week to see about a free school" [EQC 1:25]. Salem town records indicate that he was for many years employed to call town meetings [STR 1:44, 69, 130, 133, 140]. On 17 May 1647 the Salem selectmen ordered that "William Auger shall take notice of births & deaths & marriages according to an agreement of Court conferred upon Raph Fodge of Salem who now we conceive unfit for that place" [STR 1:148].

ESTATE: "Wm. Ager" was granted thirty acres in Salem in 1636 [STR 1:20, 26]. "Will: Auger" was granted three quarters of an acre of meadow on 25 December 1637, with a household of five [STR 1:103].

In his will, dated 3 March 1653/4 and proved 29 June 1654, "William Ager of Salem" bequeathed to Joseph Ager his dwelling house and garden "but if in case he be not living then his son Benjamin Ager is to have it," to son Jonathan Ager his ten acre lot, meadow and cow "& if Joseph Ager came home again then Benjamin and Jonathan Ager are to divide the land and cow equally between them," to daughter "Abigall Kibben" some movables, to Benjamin and Jonathan his sons and Abigail his daughter rest of household stuff, to Alice his wife use of house, garden, ten acre lot, meadow, cow and household stuff for life or widowhood and if she marry again to have her thirds of the whole estate, she to be executrix; witnessed by Nathaniel Pickman, Tabitha Pickman and Elias Stileman Jr. The inventory was taken 20 June 1654 by Edmond Batter and Elias Stileman and totalled £43 14s. 8d., of which £24 was in real estate: one house and garden plot, £16; 8 acres upland, £5; one acre marsh, £3 [EPR 1:184-85].

BIRTH: About 1610 based on estimated age of eldest child.

DEATH: Salem between 3 March 1653/4 (date of will) and 20 June 1654 (date of inventory).

MARRIAGE: By 1636 Alice ____; "Alice Ager" was admitted to Salem church before the reorganization at the end of 1636 [SChR 6]; if she was the mother of all of William's children, then they were married by 1633, and the marriage probably took place in New England; the record of her church membership is later annotated to say that she had removed, which may indicate that she had remarried, especially since all of her children except Joseph lived out their lives in Salem. She is very likely the Alice Algier or Eager who married at Woburn 13 July 1654 Henry Tottingham [WoVR 283; the surname of the bride was spelled differently in the town and county versions of the marriage record].

CHILDREN:

- i JOSEPH, b. say 1633; apparently an adult and not in New England at the time of his father's will.
- ii ABIGAIL, b. about 1635; m. by 3 March 1653/4 Arthur Kibben or Kibbey of Salem.
- iii BENJAMIN, bp. Salem 12 February 1636/7 [SChR 16]; m. before 1671 Anna ____ [EPR 2:250]. In various secondary sources she is identified as Anna Cromwell, but the evidence for this has not been found [Savage 1:78; Perley 1:217; Bassett-Preston 8].
- iv JONATHAN, bp. Salem 10 November 1639 [SChR 17]; m. Salem 27 June 1661 Rebecka Hide [SVR 3:323].

COMMENTS: Banks has an entry for a William Agar of Watertown, said to be from county Essex in England [Topo Dict 54]; this has nothing to do with William Ager of Salem, and refers to William Hagar, who first appears in Watertown in the early 1640s.

In addition to the sources cited under son Benjamin above, a very brief account of the early generations of this family may be found in Essex Ant 2:128.

Who We Are

The History of Saint Patrick Parish

In the seventeenth and early eighteenth century, Stoneham is said to have been inhabited by Pawtuckeog Indians. In 1619, Sachem, a descendent of the Pawtuckeog Indians, deeded the lands of Charlestown, Watertown, and Cambridge in exchange for some corn and the title to her plot of land on Mystic Pond. Until the 1700s, Stoneham remained part of Charlestown, which then extended all the way North to Wilmington and was commonly known as "Charlestown End." Twenty-five years into the eighteenth century, 1725, the town would declare its independence, separating from Charlestown and incorporating as the Town of Stoneham. In the 1830s, transient people, mostly from Nova Scotia and the New England state north of Massachusetts, began migrating into Stoneham in search of work in the thriving shoe industry. If the Irish brought with them the spirit of determination to make a better life for themselves, they also brought with them their own religion, new and unfamiliar to the Yankee culture of a New England town like Stoneham. There were no Catholic churches in the town; the spiritual

Source	Name (and variant spellings)	Dates examined	Place	Relevant Record	Notes	Objective
Federal Census-Hunning Jacobson	Jacobson	1910	Cambridge	yes	Record does not indicate religious denomination, nor does his birth point to connection with Nova Scotia (enumerated as born in Sweden, both parents born in Sweden)	Census record may show a connection to Nova Scotia or provide more information about his religious affiliation
Federal Census-William T. O'Connor	O'Connor	1910	Wakefield	yes	Record indicates probable affiliation with the Catholic Church. His birth shows no connection with Nova Scotia (enumerated as born in Mass, both parents born in Ireland)	Census record may show a connection to Nova Scotia-quick google search shows that the William O'Connor's church, St. Joseph's is a Catholic church. This may be the connection to Ellis family.
Federal Census-Thomas R. McCoy	McCoy	1900	Wakefield	yes	Record does not indicate religious denomination, nor does his birth point to connection with Nova Scotia (enumerated as born in Mass, both parents born in Ireland)	Census record may show a connection to Nova Scotia-quick google search shows that the Thomas McCoy's church, St. Joseph's is a Catholic church. This may be the connection to Ellis family.
City Directories
Cambridge City Directory	Hunning Jacobson	1898	Cambridge	yes	Record indicates that Hunning Jacobson was the pastor at the Swedish Lutheran Augustana; however, it is important to note that the Louise Sjoblom was of Finnish descent and may explain the Swedish church affiliation.	City directory may show a connection to Nova Scotia or provide more information about his religious affiliation
