Registry of Deeds

Background

- Opened in 1708, Dublin – part of the Penal Laws
- Parties draw up a deed and decide to register it
- A memorial (copy or summary of the deed) is prepared by solicitor (attorney)
- Solicitor presents memorial and original deed at ROD
- ROD swears witness to memorial, registers it, gives it a number
- Clerk transcribes memorial into large transcript volumes for public access; notes volume, page, and memorial number; files memorial in ROD vault; original deed returned to solicitor
- In early 19th c., ROD began creating abstracts of memorials

Records and indexes

- Over 2 million deeds memorialized between 1708 and 1929
- Deeds could be leases, assignments, sales, marriage settlements, mortgages and rent charges, wills, bills of discovery
- Grantors index (no index to grantees, but online indexing in progress)
- Lands index (townland or address)

This is the home page of the Registry of Deeds Index Project

Purpose

The purpose of this project is to provide finding aids for the records held at the Registry of Deeds in Dublin. There are three sets of indexes produced by the project:

- The main index is building a name index for the memorial transcription books held at the Registry of Deeds
- The grantors index consists of transcriptions of the Registry of Deeds' grantors indexes
- The townland index consists of transcriptions of the Registry of Deeds' townland indexes

Each of these index databases can be searched on a number of fields. None, of course, is complete. Each has those index entries contributed by the project volunteers.

Background

The Registry of Deeds is located in Henrietta Street, Dublin, Ireland and is a repository of records of wills, land transactions in Ireland and other deeds from 1709. While the original purpose of the Registry of Deeds was to enforce rules limiting the land transactions of Catholics, even before the removal of these rules in 1782 many Catholics and representatives of Catholic families appear in the memorials. Many memorials involved people of modest means who were merchants and traders who registered deeds to provide some form of security of tenure. Moreover, Catholic occupiers are sometimes mentioned.

The Registry of Deeds is a rich source of genealogical information. Marriage and other settlements are particularly informative about family relationships.

FamilySearch Films on-line

FamilySearch has put all the memorial volumes and indexes up on line. There is a link at the bottom of this page to the catalogue entry. Use the Guides pages from the top menu to navigate the films more directly.

Notes

Microfilm of original records at Ministry of Justice, Registry of Deeds, Dublin.

A memorial in legal terms was the preservation or recording of an event, and specifically an abstract of the particulars of a deed for registration. A conveyance was a document relating to the transfer of property.

Includes an index to grantors and an index to lands (townland or address) by county. There is no index to grantees. Up to 1833 the Grantor index does not give the address or townland involved. It shows only the surname and first name of the grantor, followed by the surname of the first grantee, then the volume, page and deed number required to find the record. After 1833 the Grantor index adds the county in which the lands were situated. The Land index groups townlands together under their first letter only. After 1828 the Land index is further divided by barony, so it is necessary to know the barony in which the townland was located. Cities and corporation towns have separate indexes arranged by street or vicinity. Corporation towns (incorporated towns) are: Antrim, Ardee, Ramagh, Askeaton, Athboy, Athlone, Athy, Augher, Ballyshannon, Birr, Bandon, Callan, Carlingford, Carlow, Carrickfergus, Carrick-on-Shannon, Carrick-on-Suir,

The townland is the foundation of land division in Ireland, so the starting point for many searches. The standard work of reference for searches is a book published in 1861 with the title "General Alphabetical Index to the Townlands and Towns, Parishes & Baronies of Ireland", which was printed by Alexander Thom & Co. of Dublin, "for her Majesty's Stationery Office". Thom's printed many of the official government publications.

This Townland Index book includes a list of the townlands and towns, their size in acres, along with their names of the associated civil parishes, baronies, Poor Law Unions and Counties based on the data available at the time from 1851 census returns and statistics extracted from the returns.

The original transcript of the Index was carried out by John Broderick aka 'SeanRuad', and an improved version is included below, which some corrections of typos, and incorrectly assigned Poor Law unions etc..

The links below allow for several different types of searches, including two separate 'Sounds Like' functions, advanced wildcard and group-by search modes and a 'browse' mode to show lists of townlands included in a Poor Law Union, Barony or Civil Parish.

Further help and brief examples are included on each of the search pages.

Townland database	Search by townland name, using part names, wildcards, soundex For wildcard option use . (full stop) to search for a single unknown letter, and * for one or more letters.
Advanced Townland Search	Search Townlands, Parishes, Baronies and Poor Law Unions using wildcards. Use . (full stop) to search for a single unknown letter, and * for one or more letters.

Lands index under the Barony

QUESTIONS?

Freeholders Registers and Poll Books

Overview

- Definition of freeholders
- Description of records
- What does voting have to do with land?
- Contents of records
- Availability and access

What are freeholders?

"Men who either owned their land outright or who held it in a lease for the duration of their life, or the lives of other people named in the lease."

Source: PRONI

What are the records and why should I care?

- 18th and 19th century
- Freeholders registers: individuals who had registered to vote
- Poll books: voters and the candidates for whom they voted
- Substitutes for non-existent 18th- and early-19th-century records, such as censuses.

Who could vote?

- 1727-1793: Protestants with a freehold worth 40 shillings or more per year
- 1793-1829: Protestants and Catholics with 40-shilling freeholds
- 1829-1832: Individuals with freeholds worth 10 pounds or more per year

What do the records contain?

- Name of freeholder
- Address of freeholder
- Location of freehold
- Description of freehold
- Name of landlord
- Address of landlord
- Value of freehold
- Names of other lives
- Date and place of freeholder's registration
- Occupation of freeholder
- Religion of freeholder

Welcome, this site contains genealogical information extracted from various census, directories, cemeteries and newspapers. Free sources of Irish genealogical information are rare on the internet!. This site offers a number of online Irish databases and transcribed documents, including Land Owners in Ireland 1876, Irish Flax Growers List 1796, Pigot & Co's Provincial Directory of Ireland 1824, Postal Directory of Cork 1842-43, Slater's Commercial Directory of Ireland 1846, Guy's Postal Directory of Cork 1914 and cemetery transcriptions and photographs.

I would like to thank all those who have provided information for use on this site, especially Enda Lee, Henry McFadden, Jean Prendergast, Dave Sherry, Ginni Swanton, Sean Ahearn and Jeffrey Wainwright.

Contributions of historical or genealogical interest for West Cork welcomed and appreciated.

This site reflects my own interest in genealogy, but I am not a professional genealogist and I am unable to answer individual research questions. Names currently being researched are Hayes, O'Connor, Brown, Fox, Santry, Callaghan and Murphy. My paternal grandfather came from Derryduff near Rosscarbery, my paternal grandmother was born in Dingle. My maternal grandparents came from Mullagh, Moynalty, Tierworker areas of Meath/Cavan.

Irish Flax Growers, 1796

The Irish Linen Board published a list of nearly 60,000 individuals in 1796. Spinning wheels were awarded based on the number of acres planted. People who planted one acre were awarded 4 spinning wheels and those growing 5 acres were awarded a loom. Donegal and Tyrone had the highest number of awards. Dublin and Wicklow were not included in this list. These extracts contain the name, parish and county. The barony was listed instead of the parish in a few of the records. Also known as the Spinning Wheel list or the Flax Growers Bounty. If you would like to view all the records for one county in one file click here

The screenshot shows the homepage of the Great Parchment Book website. At the top, there are three navigation tabs: "Ulster plantation", "Book history", and "Project history". The main title "The Great Parchment Book of The Honourable The Irish Society" is prominently displayed in white on a dark background. Below the title, a search bar is present with the text "Search the site" and a magnifying glass icon. A link "Finding your way around the book »" is also visible. A paragraph of text describes the project: "Conserving, digitally reconstructing, transcribing and publishing the manuscript known as the Great Parchment Book. Take a look inside the book.".

On the right side of the page, there are three vertical sections:

- People: A list of names including "Douglas, John", "mc[...], John", "Mutter, Richard", and "O haggan, Donnell". A button labeled "View more people" is at the bottom of this list.

Ralph Whitfeld Thomas Fotherley 1639 Robert Thornton

The said eighth day of August, the aforesaid commissioners for and on his Majesty's behalf by virtue of the said commission, and Robert Thornton, one of the Aldermen of the late city of Londonderry, for and on the behalf of Gabriel Heatly of the said late city, gentleman, do conclude and agree that the said Gabriel Heatly, his heirs and assigns shall have and hold forever all that [...] or parcel of land

commonly called or known by the name of [...] appurtenances, or by whatsoever name called or known, [...] part or [...] of all that town balliboe [...] [Altinure Upper and Altinure [...] tenure or occupation of the said [...] the messuages, cabins, houses

An ancient division of land dating back to pre-Norman times, the common English translation for a variety of small local land units that varied in name and meaning throughout Ireland. Roughly synonymous with 'Townland'. Balliboes were economic units based on the amount of food the land would provide, thus poorer units were larger as more land was required to produce the same amount of food as a smaller but higher quality unit.

Using Irish Land Records in Your Family History Research 2024

Thank you for registering for the online conference, *Using Irish Land Records in Your Family History Research!

Land records are a critical part of Irish family history research. As many public records were destroyed in 1922, land records become a bright spot in Irish genealogical research. They can provide information on multiple generations within a family, lend a greater understanding of your ancestors' movements and economic status, and shed light on their daily lives. Discussing—but also moving beyond—Griffith's Valuation, this online seminar will delve more deeply into leveraging land records in your family history research.

This course includes five 90-minute classes and exclusive access to handouts and recordings of each presentation. These recordings and all course materials will be available for the foreseeable future.
