Townland Valuation Act of 1826

- Sought to assess the value of land and buildings throughout Ireland
- Using the information collected, a calculation would then be made regarding the annual tax amount to be charged to each property

Collecting Data for Townland Valuation

Valuator Instructions

- An instruction book to keep the method of collecting data uniform among valuers
- Updates to the instruction books were made regarding the measurement and condition of the soil, the value of buildings, etc. Later versions of the instructions called for naming the occupiers of the buildings.

1838 Irish Poor Law Act

An Act for the more effectual Relief of the destitute Poor in Ireland. [31st July 1838.]

‘ WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the more effectual Relief of the destitute Poor in Ireland :’ Be it therefore enacted by the Queen’s most Excellent Majesty, by and with the Advice and Consent of the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, and Commons, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the Authority of the same, That the Poor Law Commissioners for the Time being shall be the Commissioners to carry this Act into execution.

II. And be it enacted, That it shall be lawful for the said Commissioners, or any One of them, at any Time or Place, by Summons under the Seal of the Commissioners, or under the Hand and Seal of any One of them, to require the Attendance of all such Persons as they or he may think fit to call before them or any of them upon any Matter connected with the Objects or Purposes or the Execution of the Provisions of this Act, and to make Inquiries, and require Returns, and to administer Oaths, and examine all such Persons upon Oath, and to require and enforce the Production upon Oath of Books, Contracts, Agreements, Accounts, Maps, Plans, Surveys, Valuations, and Writings, or Copies thereof respectively, in any-wise relating to any such Matter, or, where the Commissioners or Commissioner shall think fit, in lieu of requiring such Oaths as aforesaid, to require any such Person to make and subscribe a Declaration of the Truth of the Matters respecting which he shall have been or shall be so examined : Provided

Poor Law Commissioners to carry this Act into execution.

Power to examine Witnesses, and to call for Papers, &c. upon Oath.

Funded by a property tax assessed separately from work being done with Townland Valuation surveys.

Tenement Valuation

- 1846 Valuation Act: tenement rather than townland used as a measure of valuation. For areas where valuation already took place or was underway, the use of the townland valuation remained in use until the passage of the 1852 Valuation Act. Previous work reassessed to change to tenement valuation
- “Tenement” pertained to lands, buildings, bogs, etc.

Valuation Office books 1824-1856

The printed volumes of the Primary (or Griffith's) Valuation, the record of Ireland's first comprehensive property tax, have been available online for many years now, and are a crucial part of the genealogical infrastructure for the mid-nineteenth century. But the records which underlie and inform the printed valuation have never been digitised until now, and they contain more information about households and landholding than can be found in the printed version.

There are four distinct kinds of books involved, and our former Director, Frances Magee, who has worked on these records for years, has written descriptive notes on each of them to clarify their functions and the information they contain. Begin with her General Note, and move on to the four descriptions linked below.

- General Note
- Field Books
- House Books
- Tenure Books
- Quarto Books

These records contain over 2 million names. They provide a comprehensive assessment of the rental value of Irish lands and property from the mid-1820s to the mid-1850s. The books reveal where and when individuals rented or owned property and provide rare glimpses of life in pre-famine Ireland.

About Valuation Revision Books

PRONI holds records on the valuation of property in Northern Ireland from the 1830s to 1993. The original purpose was, and remains, the assessment of every building and every piece of land and an estimation of its financial value.

Using Irish Land Records in Your Family History Research 2024

Thank you for registering for the online conference, Using Irish Land Records in Your Family History Research!

Land records are a critical part of Irish family history research. As many public records were destroyed in 1922, land records become a bright spot in Irish genealogical research. They can provide information on multiple generations within a family, lend a greater understanding of your ancestors' movements and economic status, and shed light on their daily lives. Discussing—but also moving beyond—Griffith's Valuation, this online seminar will delve more deeply into leveraging land records in your family history research.

This course includes five 90-minute classes and exclusive access to handouts and recordings of each presentation. These recordings and all course materials will be available for the foreseeable future.
